HI Fabrice,

Great to meet you earlier. Please see attached the JD for the Alloga Portfolio Manager as discussed – it's a permanent role based in France with some travel to Marseille possibly Paris and Barcelona/UK too.

I suggest it is 120K-130KK euro basic PA plus bens with some travel to Marseille.

Do let me know if you have any further queries.

Thanks,

Matt Hancock

Hi Matt,

Likewise, it was a great exchange last friday, and thank you for sending this through.
The role is clearly of interest, and the package discussed is broadly aligned with my expectations.
Please find my CV attached.

A few points that may help position my profile with your client:

- Senior manager currently leading Business Excellence (25-person team focused on performance, BI, automation and transformation) at Colis Privé (320M€ turnover - 3000 drivers & 250k deliveries daily), with management committee exposure.
- Life-science academic background (Biochemistry), with an engineering degree specialised in agribusiness economics and management.
- Strong background in pan-European logistics, transformation and programme delivery.
- Around 10 years in perishable goods and temperature-controlled logistics with solid exposure to traceability, compliance-sensitive operations and controlled environments.
- Deep last-mile expertise through Colis Privé / Ceva Logistics and Amazon.

- Proven experience leading complex cross-functional investment and transformation programmes, including CAPEX, governance, execution and post-implementation follow-up.
- Highly data-driven, risk-oriented and tech-savvy, including BI, automation and AI initiatives.
- Fluent in English, French and Spanish, with extensive experience operating across multicultural European environments.

I believe this combination would be relevant for a role sitting at the intersection of operations, governance, transformation and cross-country delivery within Cencora's European platform.

Please let me know if it is useful to discuss any of the above in more detail.

Best regards,

Fabrice

Thanks Fabrice,

Great talking to you too, I thin k it’s a great match to your skills and experience.

I hope you had a good weekend.

I will get this submitted this week and report back on this asap.

Thanks Matt
